Conditions of Use

Pay & Display Tickets must be clearly displayed whilst parked and are valid only until the time specified on the ticket.

It is important to remember that not displaying a ticket is considered a contravention even if you have bought a ticket. So don't be tempted to put your ticket in your purse or wallet!

Parking after the expiry of the time on the ticket is also a contravention

Ticket machines are not able to give you change so you will need the exact amount when buying your ticket. If the exact amount is not inserted, tickets will be issued for the nearest tariff rate below the amount entered.

For example if you inserted 60p a ticket for 1 hour will be issued but no change will be given.

Season Tickets

All Car Parks

1 Month £65
3 Months £182
6 Months £338
12 Months £650

Important news: Conditions of Use

You will need to display your Season Ticket clearly every time that you are parked. If you have a valid season ticket and you do not display it, you will be considered as parking without a ticket and this is a contravention

Season tickets are invalid once they have expired. Using an out of date season ticket is considered a contravention

Season tickets are only valid within the car park stated on the ticket.

Wickford Season Tickets are no longer valid in the Wickford Ladygate Car Park.

Season Ticket Holders must park in the designated Long Term areas of the car park where these are present (Wickford Main and Gloucester Park South)
